Dikko Faust + Esther K Smith

in response to the earthquake in Haiti, we will donate 50% of sales of our few remaining datebooks and 25-50% of sales of our limited editions and artist books to relief efforts.

Purgatory Pie Press began in 1977 when Dikko Faust pied an overfilled job case of cold metal 8 point Century Oldstyle. In 1980, Dikko Faust and the Press married Esther K Smith and the E K Smith Museum, a museum of found art, including the Apron Collection. They collaborated on their wedding invitation.

Dikko Faust hand-sets wood and metal type and uses letterpress for relief printmaking. Smith edits and designs and hand sews books. Faust and Smith collaborate with other artists and writers to make limited editions and artist books. They publish yearly datebooks and a monthly postcard subscription. They made sets of ArtistTracts, Artists Coasters, and PurgaToys. Instabooks is a current series.

Purgatory Pie Press had solo exhibitions at the Metropolitan Museum and London's Victoria & Albert Museum. Museumcollections include MOMA, Brooklyn Museum, the Whitney, theTate, National Gallery of Art, Cooper-Hewitt, the Getty, Corcoran, San Francisco MOMA, and the Walker.

The Press has had solo exhibitions at Harvard University, Smith College, and San Francisco's Center for the Book. The How to Make Books exhibit began at Cooper Union and traveled to RISD, Pyramid Atlantic, SVA's design MFA gallery, Minnesota Center for the Book , and Pratt Institute.

Faust and Smith travel as visiting artists, lecturing, demonstrating, and making collaborative projects in art centers and universities. Faust teaches letterpress at SVA. They also teach private classes at Purgatory Pie Press. Extraordinary A+100 students can apply for internships.

Esther K Smith has written and co-designed three books for Random House imprint Potter Craft. Dikko Faust hand set type for the covers and display pages. THE PAPER BRIDE, HOW TO MAKE BOOKS and MAGIC BOOKS & PAPER TOYS are available wherever books are sold. You can get them directly from Purgatory Pie Press--signed+ with FREE GIFT!

Purgatory Pie Press made the wood type logo for Greenlight Bookstore and printed their posters, bookmarks and business cards. The press also designs and prints letterheads, invitations and custom books.

Math meets art: artists, teachers, and kids of all ages can enjoy these intriguing projects. Book artist, Esther K Smith, shows off these tricky paper forms that combine the mathematical magic of squares and triangles and the moebius strip. Easy to make and hypnotic to play with, they are excellent containers for a variety of content.
